Gluco Blocker is made from the extract of Mycelia, commonly found in mushrooms (Agaricus, Ganoderma lucidum, Shiitake). They have been carefully cultivated on a bed of pulpy sugar cane residue called bagasse. The extract is combined with Okinawan guava leaf extract and Mulberry leaf extract, which is known for its many good effects on the health. Gluco Blocker is in tablet form, making it easier for every intake.

Bingata

This is a traditional dyed cloth that represents Okinawa. It was used to make clothing for the nobility during times of the Ryukyu Kingdom. Due to such trend, it is often used for the colorful costumes of the Ryukyuan dance.

 Product information Mushroom mycelia extract of Agaricus, Ganoderma lucidum, Shiitake are the main ingredients, and is added with Mulberry and Guava leaf extract. It is blended upon processing for minimal sugar absorption.
